ISRAEL MAY 2019

If like us you have ever wondered what Israel is like then we can tell you: It's a mixture of beautiful scenery, amazing history, wonderful food, a rich diversity of people together with political complexities and divided communities.

We went, of course, primarily to see the famous religious locations of both the O.T. history and where Jesus' ministry took place. We were not disappointed. Beyond the hype and commercialisation (souvenirs!) were several moving experiences – praying in the garden of Gethsemane, reflection upon the Easter events in the very locations where it all took place, looking out over the beautiful sea of Galilee and seeing where Jesus lived and taught.

We went as a group of 25 – a mixture of couples, solo travellers and friends – all led by Steve and Janet (with excellent assistance from our Israel tour guide). Having done several tours they knew when and where to go to maximise the opportunities. 10 days of blue skies was an added bonus!

Our days included touring, reflecting together, as well as relaxed singing and sharing times and also free time. Having gone knowing none of the other travellers we have returned with many new friends.

Jerusalem

Beyond the land and the history – has anywhere a story to tell like Jerusalem's? – there is also the present day reality of the struggles between the Israelis and the Palestinian populations. We heard a challenging talk from one Christian Palestinian whose family land over several generations was seized by the Israelis without any compensation. He reminded us that the 1948 mandate which gave the Jewish settlers half of the land now known as Israel has grown to 90% of the total – much of which is in breach of UN law. He now has to pass through security check points to leave or enter his own village.

The Holy Land's history of struggle and occupation feels all too present and continues to need our prayers and careful consideration.

Finally, our thanks to Steve and Janet for making an interesting visit both enriching and informative. The carefully planning together with the relaxed pace makes this an easy experience to recommend.

That just leaves us to say we only have a few hundred pictures to share ...

Till I am wholly Thine
