'Reach out Your hand and touch me Oh Lord, that I may be filled with the strength to stand alone.

Place Your hand on my shoulder, that I may feel Your presence ever near.

Cast Your shadow over my life, that I may have the courage to carry on.

Walk by my side at times of despair, that I may hold the hand of faith.

Enter my heart when I am dejected so I may feel the warmth of Your love.

Be with me when I feel alone, that I may have Your companionship - for I know You are always with me.'

Can you remember?

I can because I'm old, and to many of us it's still quite vivid. It was so moving to see thousands of armed forces marching past the Cenotaph. But now we also think that to most young people it's just history; still, there's a lot to be learnt from that.

Memory is the treasure house
the mind
Which delights old age.
When twilight gently bids the days goodbye,
Greets the evening stars
And waits upon the silence of the night,
When memory drifts into dreams.
Reflections of then, now and times gone by.
Joy and shared laughter and echoes of the past.
